

July 28, 2020

Dear Public Housing Resident:

Maintaining your housing is very important to us at the St. Louis Housing Authority (SLHA). Because of this, we are extending the eviction moratorium for nonpayment of rent through September 30, 2020. During the extended moratorium, public housing residents are strongly encouraged to take the following actions:

Lyda Krewson
Mayor

Sal F. Martinez
Chairman

Constantino Ochoa, Jr.
Vice-Chairman

Regina D. Fowler
Treasurer

Annetta Booth
Commissioner

James Murphy
Commissioner

Regina Stewart
Commissioner

Shelby Watson
Commissioner

- If you can, please continue to pay your rent. The moratorium on evictions does not relieve your responsibility to pay on time.
- If you have experienced a loss in income, whether due to COVID-19 or not, please contact your leasing office immediately to update your income and properly document your hardship.
- SLHA has authorized all property management companies to establish repayment agreements with residents. If you have fallen behind on your rent and would like to discuss repayment options, please contact your leasing office as soon as possible.
- The City of St. Louis has rental assistance available for qualified city residents facing financial hardship as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. To apply, please visit stlouis-mo.gov/human-services/cares or call (314) 657-1650.

Please do not hesitate to contact me with questions. We are in this together!

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Alana C. Green".
